

Central Bruce-Grey Wind Concerns Ontario

Central Bruce Grey Wind Concerns is asking for your support.

With so many projects coming on line this year increasingly we see evidence of people trying to cope with the results. For years health affected residents in the Enbridge project have been seeking help. This year the Armow project turbines as well as the Leader turbines start operations. Reports from the St. Columban and those to the south of us, K2, Plateau among others have local groups, councillors and volunteers trying to fight for a very basic right: a good night's sleep essential to maintaining our well-being.

Wind Concerns Ontario is a coalition of some ninety groups promoting awareness of the true impacts of industrial wind power facilities.

As a WCO member group we do have support in dissemination of information from Parker Gallant on the economic aspect of this foray into wind and Jane Wilson who on behalf of the organization will not pass up an opportunity to apply criticism of these policies. Nevertheless it is at the local level we need the volunteers to translate information into action.

We have had successes and we have had failures but we feel that for another year we need to keep our group active in order to lend support with problems arising in our community in 2016, especially with acoustic testing and follow up on baseline studies now being completed. Of note: as part of the WCO coalition registered members enjoy some of the liability coverage protection provided. However, what is more important this year is that will be reaching out communication wise to all of those in our wider community. Funds in our treasury help to rent meeting halls, pay for printing pamphlets, and contribute towards actionable legal assistance where possible.

Please help us keep track of your membership and/or donation by filling out our 2016 membership form. Even if you do not wish to be a registered member simply mark "NO" and return the form with any donation or your ability to volunteer. Acknowledgements will be sent to all for completed forms received and to help us with mailings, please be sure to include your email address.

WCO releases will not be forwarded through our e-list in order to avoid duplication. To keep up to date on WCO releases, visit the Wind Concerns Ontario Website at <http://www.windconcernsontario.ca/> where you can register to receive new WCO posts right into your mailbox.

Thank you for your support.
